Joy Lynn accuses Depreo

By RICH ADAMS
Six-year-old Joy Lynn Ladner took the witness stand in the Hancock County Courthouse Wednesday as the first witness for District Attorney Albert Necaise in the Janice Ladner murder trial.
Joy Lynn was shot in the shoulder the same night her mother, Janice, was killed and the Ladner home burned in an alleged arson.
Charles Edward (Chuck) Depreo, on trial for the murder of the child's mother, is being represented by Mobile attorney James Atchison and associate defense attorney Nicholas Haas of Bay St. Louis.
The 12-man jury and two alternates returned to the courtroom after being absent since their selection Monday afternoon.
Circuit Court Judge Leslie B. Grant ordered the jury sequestered during hearings Monday and Tuesday on preliminary motions filed last week by Atchison.

The courtroom was filled to capacity with spectators, the press, and friends and relatives of both the defendant and the deceased Janice Ladner.
Necaise, in his opening statement, said he was going to lay out a 'blueprint' of the action the state was going to take.
He recounted his version of how the murder occurred, Joy Lynn Ladner's flight from the house to a neighbor's home with a bullet in her shoulder, and how the Ladner house was in flames when law officers arrived.
"I will put the child (Joy Lynn) on the stand. Her story may be different from that of the defendant, but these are the only two people living that know what happened that day," Necaise said in closing his remarks to the jury.

Atchison addressed the jury for the defense, at one time referring to and quoting from the Bible, the book of John, Chapter 7, Verse 24, which concerns judgement.
"Don't judge a book by its cover," he added, asking for a fair and impartial trial.
"Mark Twain once said 'get your facts straight first, and then distort them as you please.' Charles Depreo did not know the facts when he was arrested," Atchison said.
He explained to the jury that Depreo said in his confession statement that "I lit the corner of a blanket thrown over Janice Ladner's body..." to start the fire.
"An arson investigation shows that gasoline in large amounts was found in the ruins," Atchison added.
"Judge this case not by appearance, but by underlying facts. This case is not yet closed," he concluded.
Joy Lynn took the stand after being deemed by Judge Grant to "be of sufficient knowledge to understand the meaning of an oath and recollect and recite what she can recollect."
Both defense and prosecution questioned Joy Lynn for a total of some two hours, both beginning their approach to the child with unrelated questions about dolls and animals and working up to testimony concerning the murder.
Joy Lynn related her version of events on the night of the murder, returning home from a visit out that evening with her mother to the present.
On questioning from Necaise, she said nobody was in the house when she and her mother returned, but after she was in bed, "Chuck was in the bathroom."
Necaise asked her to show who Chuck was, and she pointed to Depreo.
"I heard something about Chuck's mommie and daddy's divorce," Joy

Proposed school specs compiled by planners

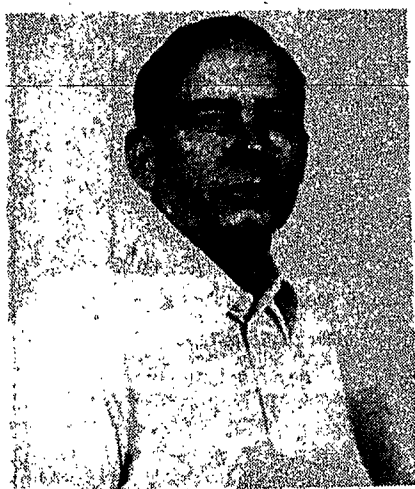

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
A planning brochure designed to assist architect John Mykolyk and Associates of Pass Christian with specifications for building schools described in a $3,363,000 school bond proposal for the Hancock County School District has been completed.
"The brochure, completed Oct. 13, provides specification information submitted by administrators, teachers, citizens and staff that describes the future needs school buildings listed in the bond issue should meet," said Dr. Jack Owenby, hired by the Hancock County School Board to manage the planning stage of the proposed bond issue.
Information for the brochure was obtained from planning committees organized by Owenby.

"There was an approximate total of 75 teachers, administrators, school staff and concerned citizens who participated in the Planning Committees," said Owenby.
Some 80 percent of Mykolyk's architectural specifications for design of the schools will reflect information submitted in the brochure, explained Owenby.
"Other specification information that will be used to aid in designing the schools will come from Mykolyk and Associates, myself and the Hancock County School Board," said Owenby.
Planning Committee members were volunteers, continued Owenby.

Bay names McQueen to succeed Engelhorn

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Kelly McQueen was the unanimous choice of Bay St. Louis Council as the successor to Eddie Engelhorn as City Clerk.
McQueen has been serving as finance officer since June and will continue in that capacity as well as new city clerk.

Mrs. Cathy Johnson was also an unanimous choice for the position of deputy clerk and minute clerk. Ms. Johnston has been a city employee for a year.
McQueen's appointment was made after acceptance of Engelhorn's resignation. Council president James Thriftley, in recommending McQueen, stated, "McQueen is highly qualified and has done a fine job as finance officer. He is a graduate of Mississippi State and has worked for the State of Mississippi and the local firm of Moore and Powell."

Toomey announces candidacy

Jack Toomey has announced his candidacy for Waveland Alderman, Ward 2, in the Democratic primary to be held November 7.
He was born and reared in Waveland and attended local schools. He served during World War II and The Korean War and was honorably discharged in 1953.
After being discharged, he was employed by the L. & N. Railroad as switch foreman and yard master - the youngest man in the Southern District to hold this position.
Upon leaving the railroad in 1958 he opened a Shell Station in Waveland. Presently, he is owner and operator of this business.
"I would appreciate your considering me for Alderman of Ward 2. I will serve you to the best of my ability and will discuss with you, at any time, problems that may arise in the Second Ward," the candidate stated.
Toomey faces the incumbent in the Democratic primary in Waveland. A general election will be held December 5.
"Thankyou for your vote and support," he added.

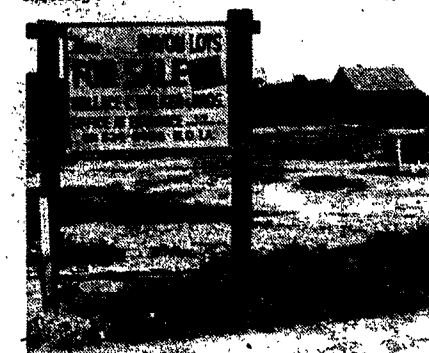

NEWLY APPOINTED - Kelly McQueen, left, has been appointed by Bay St. Louis as city clerk and Cathy Johnson as deputy clerk. The interim appointments are for a period of six months. State agency seeks halt to Shangri-la project

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission (MAWPCC) insists Wallace C. Walker and Brothers Developers of New Orleans, La., immediately cease developing and selling lots in the Shangri-la Subdivision in Pass Christian.
"The Mississippi Board of Health informed the MAWPCC that conventional septic tanks and absorption fields used for wastewater disposal can not satisfactorily operate in the Shangri-la Subdivision in Pass Christian," stated Commission Director Charles Chisolm.
As a result of the Board of Health's information, MAWPCC has insisted selling and developing of lots stop, continued Chisolm.
The Board of Health further told the commission that conventional sewer collection and treatment appears to be the only alternative method of wastewater disposal in the Shangri-la Subdivision, disclosed Chisolm.

Chisolm said he sent Walker Brothers a letter Sept. 29 stating, "...we insist you immediately cease developing and selling lots in this area until plans and specifications for an acceptable sewerage system can be reviewed and approved by staff members of this agency."

The Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission has asked Walker to stop selling lots in this area until an acceptable sewerage system can be approved for the area. (Staff photo - Leslie Williams)

"In the letter," said Chisolm, "I emphasized that the area near the Bay of St. Louis is environmentally sensitive."
Chisolm told the Echo Oct. 18 he was contacted about a week ago by Walker Brothers in New Orleans.
The developers said they will stop selling lots, and they agreed to meet with the MAWPCC to discuss the sewerage problem, continued Chisolm.
"The developers haven't met with us yet," Chisolm pointed out.
"The Commission believes it can enforce regulations to stop Wallace C. Walker Developers from selling and developing lots—but the Commission sincerely hopes we do not have to enforce our request," added Chisolm.

Jerry Kelly, a Pass Christian Isles resident, said he is extremely upset with Shangri-la's method of wastewater disposal.
"Sewerage coming from the Shangri-la Subdivision goes into water surrounding my home where my children swim—the sewerage is a health hazard," exclaimed Kelly.
Kelly stated there are six homes in the subdivision and all the homes use septic tanks for sewage disposal.

Supervisors sanction Crane Creek bridge

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved several County Beat projects, Port and Harbor Commission resolutions and has sanctioned the last week in October as United Way Week.
The Board confirmed October 22-29 as United Way Week in Hancock County at the Board's Monday meeting.
The Board also sanctioned Beat 3 Supervisor Oscar Petterson's request for permission to have plans drawn up to replace Crane Creek bridge on Crane Creek Road with Mississippi aid funds.
Beat 1 Supervisor Bert Courrage, Petterson and Beat 4 Supervisor Sam Pernicaro voted to approve Petterson's request. Beat 2 Supervisor Alton Keller and Beat 5 Supervisor James Travira voted against the request.
"If we use Mississippi funds for a bridge in Beat 3, we'll lose state funds for my Preacher Powell Road project in Beat 2 and I've been working on that project for one year now," insisted Keller, explaining his reason for voting no.
Travira said he voted no for the same reason that Keller did, and also because he thinks Petterson should repair the bridge with Hancock County funds at a cheaper cost.

Bids for the purchase of a Crawler Dozer and the sale of an old dozer for Beat 3 were sanctioned by the Board. Coastal Machinery's bid of $26,973 for sale of a new dozer, and bid for purchase of Beat 3's old dozer at $14,500 were both acceptable by Petterson. Coastal Machinery is located in Gulfport.
"Residents in Beat 3 said I had made promises to them to repair the playground area at Hancock North Central," exclaimed Petterson, "I didn't make any promises to repair the playground."

Ducks arrive, may leave early

The ducks are here and more are coming, but how long they remain in Mississippi is questionable. Near drought conditions in some areas of the state is the reason, according to federal conservation officials.

Numerous flocks of blue-snow geese along with numbers of gadwall, pintail and widgeon ducks are being seen now in the state's delta and fringe areas. A major migration of ducks and geese is expected during the latter half of October. But if adequate permanent water conditions do not materialize, the state may lose a considerable number of the migrating waterfowl, according to a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service spokesman. "The very dry conditions that we've had since the summer is still with us in many parts, and from my flights over the delta this drought has taken its toll on such permanent water areas as cypress-tupelo breaks, oxbow lakes, bayous and other water areas in the delta," Senior Resident Agent Sidney Woodson of Jackson said.

Water is at an extreme low and holding sufficient numbers of ducks and geese will diminish as the dry conditions persist and if farmers or waterfowl hunters do not take steps to contain the expected upcoming rainfall and runoff water, Woodson said.

According to state Game and Fish Commission officials, the state's first goose season gets underway Saturday, October 14 and runs through November 9. The shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, except where noted in special areas.

Geese, except Canada Geese, may be hunted statewide. Canada Geese may only be hunted in the area around Sardis Reservoir encompassed by Interstate Highway 55 on the west, State Highway 71 on the east, State Highway 310 on the north and State Highway 6 on the south. The daily bag limit on Canadas there is one and possession limit is two.

The daily bag limit on blue-snow geese is five and possession limit is five. Only two white-fronted geese are permitted daily, and only two in possession. The aggregate daily bag limit is five geese with no more than two white-fronted geese.

"The key to having numbers of waterfowl and good hunting is water. Drainage in many parts of the delta has affected potential waterfowl areas," Woodson explained. "In the rice areas of Leflore, Sunflower, Bolivar, Coahoma, Humphreys and Washington counties, there are few water areas that have not been drained. The rice fields there would attract thousands of ducks and geese if farmers and hunters who lease these spots would plug culverts and levees so these structures can capture rainfall we'll get in upcoming weeks."

Reports from the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission indicate that some 378,000 ducks have moved into the coastal marshes as early as October 2.

Surveys show that blue-winged teal, baldpate, gadwall and pintail are showing up in greater numbers daily.

Teachers union organizes locals

The Mississippi Federation of Teachers, AFT-AFL-CIO, reports the addition of two new local affiliates in Mississippi. The new locals will be known as the Jefferson County Federation of Teachers Local 8871 and the Natchez-Adams County Federation of Teachers Local 3874.

Ray Magallanes, president of the Mississippi Federation of Teachers, said "The new locals are yet another example of the momentum being gained by the Mississippi Federation of Teachers. The organization of new locals can only bring about positive and progressive improvements for the students and teachers all across the state."

The President of AFT Local 3871 is Nathaniel Guerin, a junior high school music teacher from Quitman who presently resides in Fayette.

President of AFT Local 3874 is Mrs. Virginia Newby of Natchez, a teacher at McLaurin School.

Maggio wins Bay Catholic's Miss Crusader

Miss Tonya Maggio of Diamondhead was named Miss Crusader of 1978 at Bay Catholic Elementary School.

Young ladies in her court are Miss Roxanne Nease, Miss Pennie Boudin, Miss Patricia Starita, Miss Lisa Hawk, Miss Leslei Hawk and Miss Susie Christensen.

"These girls have worked very hard to bring in money for their school, raising a total of $2048.86. We would like to thank all of the people who helped them," said Mrs. John Pursley, homecoming committee chairman.

The Homecoming game will be Saturday, Oct. 28, at 10 a.m. at St. Stanislaus stadium.

A parade will precede the game, starting at O.L.G.

proceeding on N. Second Street to Main Street to Nacaise Avenue and down to the S.S.C. stadium.

The public is cordially invited to attend, Mrs. Pursley said.

Coast Guard urges boat winterization

TIME TO WINTERIZE RECREATIONAL BOATS

With the onset of cold weather, recreational boat owners are advised to take precautionary steps to prevent major weather damage.

The United States Coast Guard recommends the following measures to winterize recreational boats:

1. If you remove your boat from the water, make sure you store it with adequate support all around, and not just with one or two points carrying all the weight. Put the boat under cover or place a weatherproof tarp over it, allowing air to circulate through and around the craft.

2. For outboard motors that use an electric starter, remove the battery, take it home and put it on "trickle charge." If you leave your boat in the water (inboard cruisers and auxiliary sailboats) and use the battery to run an automatic bilge pump, arrange to have the battery placed on trickle charge at a marina and have it monitored.

3. Outboard motors should be flushed with fresh water and stored upright and out of the weather (in your basement or garage). If your outboard is too large to remove from the boat, make sure it is well covered against the elements.

4. On inboard engines, drain the engine block after closing the raw water intake. If the engine is cooled by a fresh water heater exchanger system, you can either drain the system or add sufficient antifreeze to prevent freezing.

5. Portable fuel tanks should be drained. Installed tanks should be filled with fuel and have a fuel stabilizer added.

6. If you live in an area where ice forms in the water, arrange to have a water disturbing device, such as a bottom water circulator or a "bubbler", to keep the area around the boat ice-free.

7. No matter how you store your boat, check it over at least once a week. It cannot take care of itself.

For more specific information on protecting your boat and engine from winter damage, consult your owner's manual or contact your local marine dealer.

And finally, to get yourself ready for next year's boating season, consider taking one of the many free boating courses that are available. For information on class schedules, contact your nearest Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla, United States Power Squadron, Red Cross Chapter or State Boating Authority.

PRJC OFFICIALS—Presidents and other officials from Mississippi's junior and senior colleges focused on major issues in higher education during the 45th annual meeting of the Mississippi Association of Colleges, hosted this year by The University of Mississippi. Attending from Pearl River Junior College were, from left, President Marvin White; Miller Hammill, director of student life; and Enoch Seal Jr., academic dean. The conference was coordinated by the Ole Miss Division of Continuing Education.

Tutoring juvenile offenders is TIP program objective

The Mississippi Criminal Justice Planning Division and University of Southern Mississippi are about to launch the first south Mississippi Tutorial Intervention Program, known as TIP.

Project director Karen Weldy at USM said the program will involve tutoring juvenile offenders in basic reading and math, a twist described by her as "something relatively new." "At present, there are no such tutorial services provided for the juvenile offender of Mississippi," she said of the newly funded project, which will allow professional consultants and four USM graduate students to work with a 12-18 year old age group of juvenile offenders, previously screened by youth courts.

Independent one-to-one tutoring, the young offender does not now have access to, will incorporate the use of the USM Reading Center.

"This, hopefully, will provide a non-threatening environment for the student and a true alternative to the traditional school situation," said Weldy, who pointed out the TIP program is actually an outgrowth of a volunteer pilot program directed two years ago by USM Reading Center faculty member Mary Ann Carmichael.

"That response was worthwhile and the reason the project was rewritten," she said.

Studies show the majority of juvenile offenders were found to be poor in reading skills, resulting in below average school work. The same holds for math.

"Therefore," Weldy said, "we are going on the premise that the majority are poor in these areas and our life support program will benefit them in successful experiences in both reading and math."

In addition to an individual educational program, TIP will make possible materials for programs, including everything from supplementary materials like paperback books to action math mystery kits.

Other activities will provide social experiences (within the context of instruction) as a necessary part of the academic intervention.

Weldy, who holds graduate degrees in school counseling and elementary education, said the project team is presently in the process of selecting an advisory board, which will act as a catalyst in steering the juvenile program and serve as an objective critic of the program.

Dr. George McNinch of the USM Reading Center and Carmichael will serve as ex-officio members of the board. The $38,764 Criminal Justice Planning Division funded project ending in September 1979 strives to provide regular necessary counseling services to the youth offender on an indirect basis through the tutor rather than on a direct base from the welfare or court officers.

It also aims to provide career counseling information to expand the occupational horizons of the youthful offenders and to develop a cadre of local volunteers to assist in basic skills.

But the main objective, according to Weldy, is to reduce the number of recurrent reported anti-social acts of the juvenile offender and to enhance the measured self-concept and attitude toward learning for these offenders.

"As important as the office of U.S. Senator is, your circuit court judge has a stronger effect on your daily life. He runs, in a very real sense, the people's court. Property disputes, automobile accidents, insurance claims, personal injuries, burglaries, assaults, rapes, murders, frauds; all go through the circuit court.

"How the judge conducts the court directly affects how the police do their job. Affects whether we feel safe in our home, or business. Strongly influences the attitudes of young people."

It is so nice

After so many months and years of bouncing up and down on Dunbar Avenue, it is now nice to take a smooth ride.

Having had to dodge the blockades at the intersection of deMontluzin and Nacaise Avenues and also the one on Carroll Avenue and the one on Second Street for so many months, it is sure good now that the blockades have been taken down and repairs made to the sewer lines and broken streets repaired.

It has been a long hard struggle for the residents of Bay St. Louis and caused short tempers many times by motorists to have to avoid the blockades.

We should all thank the two Hancock County supervisors for their assistance in Bay St. Louis on Dunbar Avenue, since Dunbar is one of the main arteries in our County.

We are glad the City of Bay St. Louis was able to repair some of the many sewer breaks and will really be happy when they finish repairing the rest.

We have had many comments to us about the surfacing done on the Main Street project. We understand the job hasn't been accepted by the State or City yet. We hope it won't be long before the job is finished according to specifications and is accepted by the State and City.

It sure would be nice if the rest of the streets in Bay St. Louis are resurfaced. Just pulling a figure out of the air, a good 75 percent of the streets need surfacing. Maybe we will find a rich uncle.

LETTERS

To The Editor

Spay-neuter

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis
An Open Letter to the Citizens of Hancock County
Dear Friends:

In our letter of October 5, 1978, the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., promised that if we would have a successful rummage sale on October 6 and 7, we would immediately re-open our spay-neuter program to the public.

To simply report that the sale was successful is an understatement. Never, since our inception in February of 1973, have we felt as close to the people and their untold number of animal problems as we do now.

Not only did our members go all out to help with the sale, but people we do not even know brought beautiful articles to donate. Some spent long, busy hours doing the tedious job of sorting and marking, offering us encouragement and praise for our efforts in trying to combat the animal ills of this area in the only manner in which we are permitted.

The people turned out en masse to assist us. We were not conducting a membership drive, but several requested membership applications while others joined the Society immediately.

They came in a steady stream to ask our advice, to be put on the upcoming list for the spay-neuter program, to chat and exchange ideas, and much to our delight, there were those who brought their dogs with them to visit us.

The friendliness and concern shown gave our spirits a lift and all our work became worthwhile. We feel as if we have finally come into our own and the people of Hancock County have told us so.

To the many patrons of the sale who came with such openness and in true friendship and bought so profusely, to our faithful workers who performed diligently and capably, we say a sincere "thank you". Without your help we could not have succeeded.

The total amount received from the sale was $486.80. Therefore, the spay-neuter program has re-opened. Please see our ad in this edition of the Echo for further details.

We repeat our "thank you" for believing in us and our efforts and, for helping us to help you.

Sincerely,
Bay Waveland Humane Society, Inc.

Sports neglects
Junior Highs

Dear Editor,

I have a reasonable question I would like to ask the Sea Coast Echo - Why the Bay Junior High score has not been in the newspaper for some time?

I do not think this is fair. We have won all of our conference games and in these games there was only six points scored.

We have lost one but, that was not a Pascagoula conference game.

Last week when we lost the game they put it in. I feel if it is in there when we lose, it should work both ways.

I feel this is a very reasonable thing to expect of the Echo since they are the Bay St. Louis newspaper.

Yours truly,
Bay Junior High

Obscene calls

Dear Sea Coast Echo:

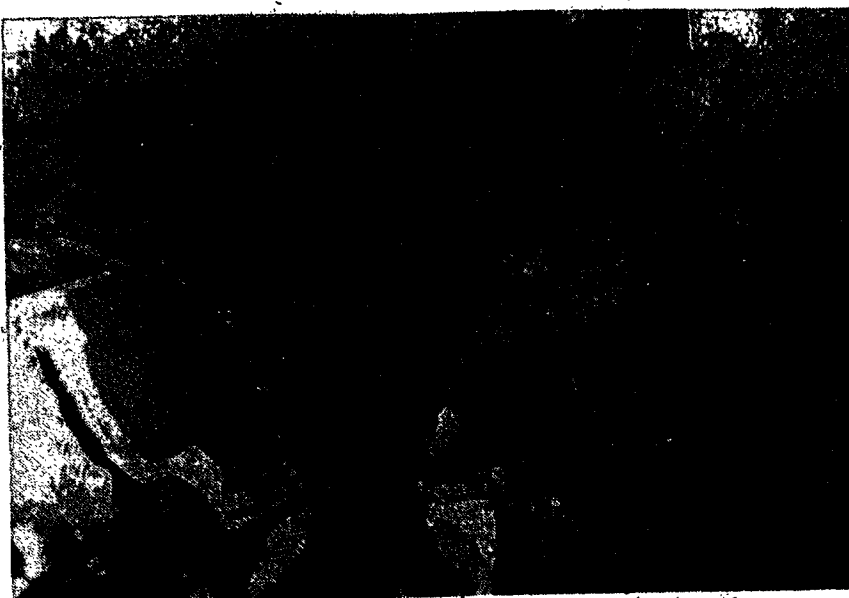

I was amazed and stunned when I answered my phone today.

A young-sounding girl started asking me filthy questions. I hung up as soon as I knew what it was.

I've had a call from a boy but never a girl - what has become of this generation?

I know there are more good children in this world - but what drives them to this?

GERIATRICS: CAN WE FIND HELP?

The ever increasing geriatric population (age 65 or older) is creating new problems for medicine. Some European countries, like Sweden and England for example, have excellent geriatric services.

Recreational programs and meals that are delivered right to the home, are only two of the services made available in England for the growing population over 65.

In the United States, more than 10 percent of the total population is comprised of people 65 or older. If the present birth rate decline continues unchanged, the percentage could double to 20 percent by the year 2025. Misconceptions about old age have blown out of proportion the real problem, chronic disease.

A New England study showed the aged "who constituted 11.4 percent of the population, accounted for about 20 percent of all hospitalizations and incurred a third of all hospital charges, mainly for chronic diseases."

The diseases do not wait until the person reaches 65, but start early in life and increase in prevalence with age. Hospitalizations, with many expensive bills, are part of the lives of the geriatric population.

According to a federal government study, the per capita cost for personal health care in 1975 was $374 for persons under 65, and $1,360 for those over 65.

Dr. Osler L. Peterson of University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Philadelphia, notes that the United States has very few geriatric services compared to Britain or other European countries. Professor John Williamson, a visiting professor from the University of Edinburgh, told a recent Philadelphia conference that the home helps services seemed to be a very effective alternative to institutionalization of the aged. Home help services in the United States are in short supply.

Age and related disorders have clouded the issue. Health care expenses have increased for the 65 and over. One can notice the upsurge of nursing homes, private nursing staff and all other health care services paid for or adjusted by Medicare or Medicaid.

Stanley Brody MD, University of Pennsylvania geriatrician, estimates that the mean nursing home charges are now about $30 per day, equivalent to a cost of $11,000 annually. And there are actually more beds in nursing homes than in short-stay hospitals (1,327,704 versus 1,049,701).

The problem of dealing with old age and accompanying chronic disease is further complicated by lack of agreement among the experts and agencies in the field. The fragmentation of services (as between Medicare and Medicaid) is no help either.

"The need for geriatric specialists has been debated for years," Dr. Peterson concluded. "I do not have an opinion on that. However, I am certain that if the physician who gives personal care is to give that care efficiently he will need one supporting organization rather than the present structure in which the place or phase of care determines responsibility."

Chamber's new
almost booked

At least 20 persons thus far have signed up to make the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's first annual "Industrial Tour" next Thursday.

Jerry Benigno, Chamber executive secretary, said the tour by bus will originate at the Bay St. Louis Shopping Center at Main Street and US-90, departing at 9 a.m. and stopping for additional passengers at Our Shopping Center in Waveland at 9:15 a.m.

First stop will be the Hancock County Vocational-Technical Center at Stennis Field. From there the tour will go to the National Space Technology Laboratories for a supervised tour of facilities there.

Dutch treat lunch will be served at NSTL.

After lunch, the tour will continue to the Hancock County Port Bienville Industrial Park and the various industries located there.

The bus will return to the shopping centers about 4:15 p.m., Benigno said.

A.J. Turner, industrial committee chairman for the Chamber said, "We are happy to be hosting this industrial tour in Hancock County, and we hope it will become an annual event, just like the Farm-City Tour."

"Hancock County is home to a variety of industries and industry-related businesses, and the Chamber feels the tour will be an enlightening and informative experience for interested members," Turner added.

The tour is free to members of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and reservations must be made in advance. Reservations can be made by calling the Chamber office at 467-0048.

Biloxi attorney Walter M. (Jack) O'Barr was sworn in Monday at the Harrison County Courthouse to fill the unexpired term of Second District Circuit Court Judge Floyd Logan, who resigned effective October 1.

Logan reportedly resigned his post to practice private law with a Gulfport firm.

O'Barr's appointment was announced by Governor Cliff Finch in Jackson Friday.

"O'Barr is probably one of the most competent people we could have found for the job. He is very knowledgeable and has been an outstanding trial judge," Finch said.

O'Barr is a former North Mississippi circuit judge and mayor of Okolona, Miss.

O'Barr will serve three months, the time remaining in Logan's term.

A permanent replacement for the judgeship will be elected November 7 and will take office in January 1979.

The 54-year-old O'Barr has been a Gulf Coast resident for two years, and practices law in Biloxi with his brother, Bobby O'Barr and Clyde Hurlbert.

Committees were very enthusiastic in projecting future needs of the School District," Owenby said.

"If the Hancock County School District waits two more years to pass a bond issue for improving the schools, construction costs will be 25 to 50 percent higher than at present," warned Hancock County School Superintendent Terrell Randolph.

The Hancock County School District schools are presently using gymnasiums, football ticket booths, a book room, a dining room, a library and various storage rooms for classrooms, due to inadequate facilities, reported Randolph.

The proposed bond issue, if passed in November, will provide money for construction of a new high school, new additions to Hancock North Central Elementary School and creation of a Special Education Center.

The letter was written to George W. Covington Jr., engineer for the owners of Henley Place.

The letter also told the engineer if the City didn't put the Leonard Avenue Well into service with adequate controls, "we (State Board of Health) will be unable to approve any new developments."

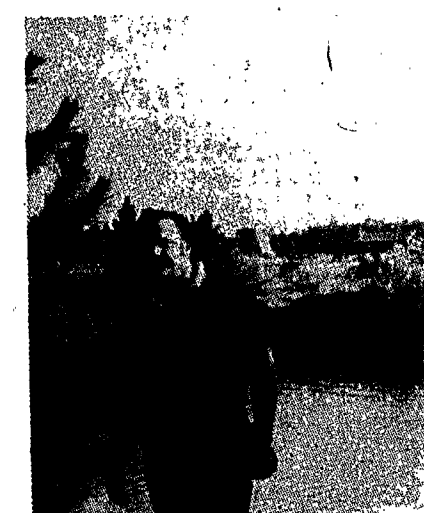

Council members were upset at that portion of the letter being written to an engineer employed by the subdivision owners instead of directly to the City.

They wondered just how the State Fire Rating Inspections could be passed if the City didn't have proper pressure even though it is using only two of four wells presently.

Also, in the Mayor's report, there was a request for a new heating system to be installed in the downstairs of the City Hall.

The mayor was given authority to advertise for a new heating system.

Council recessed until Oct. 24 at 5 p.m.

"Harrison County has accepted responsibility for maintenance of Shangri-la Subdivision roads," lamented Kelly, "but road building in the subdivision is not supervised by County officials."

"The road builders do an inferior job," complained Kelly, "and later the County ends up using taxpayer money to provide maintenance of the roads." Kelly feels the subdivision owners are in violation of two laws.

"The subdivision doesn't comply with state laws on lot sizes, and there are no fireplugs in the subdivision," Kelly further complained.

"I have talked with Director of Harrison County Code Administration L.W. Tharp about the subdivision situation, and he says he will not issue any more building permits in the Pass Christian Shangri-la Subdivision until the sewerage problem is resolved," Kelly reported.

Tharp said Wednesday, however, "I will not make any hard and fast statement saying that I will not issue any more building permits in the Shangri-la Subdivision, but I am going to present the issue to the Harrison County Board of Supervisors for consideration."

"I also have not notified the subdivision owners that I am going to discontinue issuing permits in the Shangri-la Subdivision," declared Tharp.

auditors that we can not do work at schools, except for roads and parking lots," continued Petterson.

"Besides," exhorted Petterson, "Hancock North Central doesn't belong to Beat 3 - when people have complaints about the school they should address them to the entire board."

Port and Harbor Commission resolution extending Borg-Warner's option to purchase 205 acres in Port Bienville was approved by the Board Monday.

Authorization for Atlas Powder Company to purchase land within Hancock County was approved by the Board.

Also, Port and Harbor Director Wilson Wehre was informed by Board president Kellar that the Port and Harbor Commission could not place funds into Peoples Federal Savings and Loan in Bay St. Louis, because of a bidding law formed by the Mississippi Legislature.

Hancock Circuit Clerk John Rutherford said Hancock Bank and Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis are the only banks that Hancock County monies can be deposited in.

OKTOBER FEST

The Senior Center thanks our good friend, the German American Ambassador of Good Will, Frau Rita Marti, for her enthusiasm in making this endeavor an outstanding one.

Rita, whose natural charming personality makes her very dear to everyone, was as usual the life of the party. Her dancing to polkas, waltzes, and mazurkas plus her singing in German was enjoyed by all.

Her beautiful native costume added to the festivity. Decorations in the dining room were artfully done by the staff members. The prize for best costume was won by Frau Marti, and the door prize was won by Herr Milton Inch. Refreshments in keeping with the fest theme were served: German chocolate cake, pretzels, and sweet cider. JA! Oktoberfest was Goot!

HERE AND THERE

Mrs. Myrtle L. Faulkner, her sister Elda Louvier, her brother Raymond, and his wife Irma, of LaCombe, La., traveled to Houston, Texas, where they visited with their niece Mrs. Janice Bishop and family. They enjoyed the family reunion, plus visiting local historical sites.

Highlight of the visit was a trip to the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation. On the return trip they stopped off for a weekend visit in New Orleans with another niece, Mrs. Theresa Leger and family, and a side trip to visit in LaCombe before returning to Waveland. Myrtle affirmed that it was a wonderful trip, but the proverbial "Be it ever so humble" still holds fast and true.

BEREAVEMENT

The Sands of Time have dropped the last grains to the bottom of Life's Hour Glass for four of our Seniors, Angela White, Frank Lott, David LosCalvo, and Anna Marsh.

These, each and everyone have been very active in our Senior Programs, and their many hours of volunteer help to us in the community will be missed. We offer our sincere condolences to their families and friends. We all share in your loss.

Anna Marsh has been one of the Lovely Ladies of my Telephone committee, cake bakers, and servers. I will miss her very much, but most of all I will miss her cheerful smile, and words of praise that she had for the column, which she always read, and the joy of her wit that I was privileged to share when I would pick her up for some event. Anna, Bon Voyage.

NSTL Navy, Keesler lead CFC United Way campaign

Three of the largest Federal activities on the Gulf Coast - Keesler Air Force Base, the Naval Construction Battalion Center, and the Naval Oceanographic Office, Bay St. Louis - expect to provide at least $240,000 to the 1979 Combined Federal Campaign sponsored by the Mississippi Coast Association of Federal Administrators (MCAFA).

This amount would be three-quarters of this year's target of $340,000.

The Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) is not only part of the United Way campaigns conducted in four southern Mississippi counties but also contributes to the Greater New Orleans area campaign (including St. Tammany Parish) and to national health agencies and international service agencies.

Busy Fingers elect new president

Mrs. Gloria Holmes was elected president of Busy Fingers Extension Homemakers Club at the October 17 meeting held in extension auditorium; Mrs. Delphine Taconi, president, presided.

Others named to office were Mrs. Carmella Boyd, vice president; Mrs. Alice Masson, secretary; Mrs. Becky Henley, treasurer and Mrs. Violet Bradford, parliamentarian.

Plans for the group's annual Christmas party were discussed, and following the meeting members made favors for the event.

Mrs. Bradford hosted the social hour.

The next meeting will be at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday, November 21, in extension auditorium.

Keesler Field alone, with a goal of $185,000 for its 14,000 military and civilian workers, would make up 55 percent of the CFC goal. The Navy CB Center with 4,500 military and civilian personnel has set its sights on $40,000. Both expect to exceed their full targets as they did last year.

The Naval Oceanographic Office has just completed its move from Washington, DC, to the National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL), Bay St. Louis.

NAVOCEANO (to use its short form) is at full strength for the first time and expects to collect $15,000 from its almost 1,000 employees.

The Naval Oceanographic Office is also the largest of the activities located at NSTL, which has its own special campaign.

The NSTL drive set at $82,000 combines Federal employees and contractor personnel. That drive got off the mark last Friday when a packed audience in the NSTL auditorium saw the results of the contest for the title of Ms. NSTL Torch who will symbolize the campaign. CFC officials judged 15 nominees from the various NSTL activities and selected Donna Lynn Kennedy of Picayune employed by Computer Sciences Corp.

To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Johnny Banks needs no introduction to most of the people of Hancock County. You will see his name on the ballot this November for School Board Member. Mark an "X" before his name.

It is important to re-elect Mr. Banks as School Board Member for many reasons for your child's future and handling your tax dollars. He has been conscientious in responsibility to the needs of education and is aware of the problems that face this county now. Most important he has been on the ground floor in making plans to solve these problems. We need men like Mr. Banks to vote as they believe for the present and future of schools. Our school system needs men who are aware of the priorities of education in Hancock County not just one part of it, and I believe that Mr. Banks has done that kind of work as a school board member. To insure Mr. Banks being a representative of the people of this county it is necessary that they vote for him in November.

INTENT TO ISSUE BONDS - $100,000 FAIRGROUNDS AND REFUNDING BONDS

A RESOLUTION OF THE HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS DECLARING THE INTENTION OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE BONDS OF SAID COUNTY IN AN AMOUNT NOT EXCEEDING $100,000, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SENATE BILL NO. 2562 OF THE REGULAR 1974 SESSION OF THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE AS AMENDED BY HOUSE BILL NO. 725 (CHAPTER 890), LAWS OF 1978.
WHEREAS, acting under and pursuant to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 2562, as adopted at the Regular 1974 Session of the Mississippi Legislature, and as amended by House Bill No. 725 (Chapter 890), Laws of 1978, the Board of Supervisors and Hancock County, Mississippi, is authorized and empowered in its discretion to issue bonds, notes, or certificates of indebtedness in an amount not to exceed $150,000, with the principal and interest of such obligation to be payable over a period not exceeding twenty (20) years for the purpose of constructing and equipping facilities for livestock and horse shows, fairgrounds, display and exhibition buildings and for related facilities and activities; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, pursuant to Senate Bill No. 2562, as adopted at the Regular 1974 Session of the Mississippi Legislature, did issue the bonds in the amount of $75,000 by Resolution and Order of such Board dated October 7, 1974, and did sell and deliver such bonds to Hancock Bank; and

Lynn told Necaise. Her mother returned to the bedroom alone, she said.

Joy Lynn said she heard somebody say "Janice, come here."

"Did your mother leave to go to another bedroom," the prosecutor asked.

"Yes sir," she answered.

"Did you see your mother shot," Necaise asked.

An elaborate series of questions from the district attorney elicited a response from the child indicating her mother had been shot in a hallway of the home.

"Is there any doubt in your mind that the man you pointed to (Depreo) is the man that shot you," Necaise asked.

"No sir," Joy Lynn responded.

"Is that the man," Necaise asked, pointing to Depreo.

"Yes sir," the witness testified.

"Did your mother get shot first," asked Necaise.

"Yes sir," she responded.

Necaise then asked if the child and her mother had gone outside.

"Yes sir," she answered.

"He hit me in the head with the handle (of the gun)," Joy Lynn continued.

"I tricked him to get away. I acted like I fainted," she said.

"Mommy tried to lock the door shut, but he pushed it open. I left then," she added.

Atchison, in cross examination, asked the child if she had ever seen a picture of Depreo before.

"Have you seen Chuck's picture before," he asked.

"No sir," she replied.

She later told Atchison she had seen a picture of Depreo and a story about the murder in a newspaper account given to her by a friend to take to her grandmother.

"I read the story and looked at the picture," she said.

"Was this shortly after you got out of the hospital," asked Atchison.

"I don't remember," she said.

Atchison showed her a .22 caliber pistol confiscated during a search of Depreo's house, and asked the child if the gun was the weapon used to shoot her mother.

"No sir. There were black stripes on the handle of it (the murder weapon)," she said.

"He had two pistols. He probably had one in his sock," Joy Lynn added.

Atchison asked the six-year-old if she recalled giving a description of a blond-haired man to authorities.

"Do you remember telling about somebody with long blond hair that shot you," he asked.

"Yes sir," she answered.

"Who did you tell that to," Atchison queried.

"Just at first I told it," she answered.

"Was your mamma standing by you when you were shot," Atchison asked.

"No, she was lying on the floor. She wanted to call Uncle Fairley," she said.

Necaise cross examined Joy Lynn and established Uncle Fairley was Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Fairley Necaise.

"Why didn't your mommy call Mr. Necaise," asked the district attorney.

"The phone didn't work...I think the cord was cut," Joy Lynn said.

The judge excused the six-year-old witness after the two-hours of testimony, and adjourned court until later Wednesday afternoon.

Defense Attorney James Atchison battled in court Monday following jury selection to have Depreo's confession thrown out on technicalities.

Depreo allegedly admitted to the murder on April 22, after he had signed extradition papers to return to Mississippi from Norfolk, Virginia in connection with an October, 1976 arson Depreo allegedly committed at St. Stanislaus High School.

Atchison stressed that the Ladner murder was not mentioned until after Depreo had signed papers to return to Mississippi on the arson charges.

Necaise produced two waivers signed by Depreo and said the defendant had been advised of his rights numerous times.

Peterson was called to the stand by the defense and questioned by Atchison.

Peterson said he discussed the arson charges with Depreo. Depreo then asked to discuss extradition with the naval officials present, Peterson continued.

After Depreo held a 40-minute conference with the Naval officials, Peterson said he re-entered the interrogation room and again advised Depreo of his rights.

"Depreo" then allegedly confessed to the Ladner murder.

Peterson said Sheriff Ladner and State Investigator Joe Price were called into the room with Depreo, and Depreo "voluntarily agreed" to sign a confession.

Atchison pressed Peterson, asking if the known facts of the murder did not conflict with Depreo's confession.

"Isn't it a fact that the statement and facts within say the murder occurred in a much different way than the investigation shows," asked Atchison.

"Wasn't gasoline used to start the fire?"

Peterson answered that a report from the Fire Marshal did show that a flammable material was used to start the Ladner house fire.

Atchison showed in the defendant's statement where he claims to have not used any flammable material to burn the house.

Atchison also pointed out that Depreo allegedly requested an attorney during questioning in Norfolk.

Peterson said Depreo never requested an attorney in Peterson's presence.

Atchison requested Judge Leslie B. Grant throw out Depreo's confession, but Grant refused at that point pending further testimony.

The jury, selected in a 4.5 hour session Monday, is composed of seven men five women. Two additional men are alternates.

At one time during jury selection, the defense went into private discussion for 50 minutes before excusing five members of the jury.

Fifty-four prospective jurors were present during selection Monday, and attorneys from both sides eliminated 15 jurors prior to accepting the 14-man jury.

Members of the jury are Walter Acker, 38, a janitor; Mrs. Melvin R. Villere, 63, housewife; Vivian L. Rosetti, 39, housewife; Lionel Bradley, 50, project manager; Rosemary F. Malandra, 66, housewife; Myron B. Labat, 26, teacher; Michael Terrane Burke, 26, postal letter carrier; Aaron King Brenske, 33, crane operator; Frederick L. Logan, 64, retired; Archibald Wakefield Peters, 65, retired waiter; Mrs. Marguerite Alexander, 58, housewife; and Mrs. Andrew J. Collins, 59, housewife.

The two alternates who hear the case but have no vote in the verdict unless a regular juror is unable to vote are Lawrence Lang, 33, welder; and Hamilton B. Ziegler, 44, foreman.

After jury selection was completed at 4:30 p.m. Monday, the jury was sequestered to the Waveland Resort Inn as testimony on the four motions began.

Five preliminary motions filed by Atchison were overruled Tuesday by Judge Grant.

Atchison had filed four motions on October 9 and another Tuesday afternoon, which included motions to suppress defendant Charles Edward (Chuck) Depreo's confession of the murder on April 22; a motion to suppress evidence gathered through a search warrant at the home of Depreo's parents and to suppress Joy Lynn Ladner's description of the assailant; a motion to hold a hearing to go into matters concerning a post-indictment identification of the defendant; photograph by Joy Lynn Ladner; a motion to produce an investigation file allegedly in Earl (Buck) Ladner's possession; and a motion to produce all U. S. Navy material pertaining to action of naval authorities releasing Depreo to Mississippi law officers.

Hearings on the motions continued following Monday's testimony on Depreo's confession by Ronnie Peterson.

The defense called Naval Investigator Robert M. Mote from Naval Investigative Service in Norfolk, Va.

Mote testified that he was told by an NIS official from Gulfport not to discuss the possibility of homicide charges with Depreo, just arson charges he was suspected of in a 1976 shed fire at St. Stanislaus School.

Mote told Atchison that he advised Depreo of his rights pertaining to a civilian law case.

Mote explained there were two sets of rights, a military set and a civilian set.

Under the civilian rights, Mote said, Depreo was not entitled to a military lawyer and was offered civilian counsel.

According to Mote, Depreo turned down civilian legal counsel.

Atchison produced a copy of the Navy's Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual, in which it is stated that an attorney must sign a form before an armed forces member may be voluntarily extradited.

Mote said the form was not filled out or signed by an attorney, and Atchison called the extradition "a scheme to get the defendant to return to Mississippi" to face murder charges.

Atchison claimed military regulations were not followed in obtaining Depreo's confession in that Depreo was not legally represented.

Necaise, representing the state in the case, asked Mote if Depreo had been offered civilian legal counsel and turned counsel down.

Mote said that was correct.

Joe Price of the Mississippi Highway Patrol was called as a witness by the defense, and said he had never heard Depreo ask for a lawyer.

Atchison accused law enforcement officers of depriving Depreo of his rights.

"The defendant asked for an attorney. He knew he had to talk about his problems with someone," Atchison said.

"The court must condemn such practices, such methods used to get around the defendant's rights," Atchison said.

Judge Grant denied the motion, saying the defendant was adequately notified of his rights.

"The defendant neglected warnings given, including the Miranda rights. He understood his rights and waived his rights to remain silent," Grant said.

"He (Depreo) was not forced or under any duress to sign a confession, and no promises were made. I find the statement was voluntarily given and overrule the motion," Grant concluded.

A motion alleging an affidavit in support of a search warrant issued to search the home of Depreo's parents contained false statements was also overruled.

Atchison called Highway Patrol Investigator Phillip M. (Mickey) Ladner to the witness stand for questioning.

Ladner said he had talked with Brother Joseph Donovan of St. Stanislaus and stated Donovan had said Depreo was asked to leave St. Stanislaus for suspicion of arson.

Ladner said Donovan had never mentioned that Depreo was charged or expelled from school for arson.

Atchison pressed the fact that Depreo is a brunette, and Joy Lynn Ladner had given the police a description of a blond with hair to his collar.

Joy Lynn's description of the assailant given to Ronnie Peterson was "young, not old like you, with blond hair, long to the neck," reported Ladner.

Atchison asked why Ladner did not look for a blond haired man named Chuck, and Ladner said other developments had taken place between the time Joy Lynn said the assailant was blond and the time of Depreo's arrest.

"I never limited my investigation to blond hair," Ladner said.

Highway Patrol Investigator T. P. Naylor, who investigated reports of arson by Depreo at Hancock North Central, also testified when called before Judge Grant by Atchison.

Once again, Atchison stressed the description of a blond haired person named Chuck.

After 45 minutes of recess, Judge Grant denied the motion to suppress evidence.

A motion was filed by the defense Tuesday afternoon to hold a hearing prior to the trial to ensure proper safeguards of the defendant's rights were taken in a photographic identification of Depreo by Joy Lynn Ladner.

Atchison called Peterson to the stand and asked him about a process of identification used in which five photos of persons similar in appearance to Depreo, and one of Depreo, were pasted on a cardboard backing.

Peterson testified he asked Joy Lynn if she recognized any of the pictures, and she pointed to the picture of Depreo and said, "Number two (Depreo) was at my house that night. He shot me and killed my mother."

Peterson said he was told by relatives of Joy Lynn that she had seen no pictures of Depreo on television or in the newspapers prior to the identification.

Judge Grant denied the motion.

"I see nothing unconstitutional or improper in the identification made by the child by using the photographs," Grant explained.

Concerning the defense motion to compel the state to produce a file Earl Ladner supposedly had in his possession on the investigation of the case, Necaise told the court he had talked with Ladner and Ladner said he had no file.

The prosecutor added Earl Ladner has agreed to take the stand under oath to state he has no investigative file on the case.

Judge Grant denied the motion after Atchison said he accepted Ladner's word on the matter.

Grant denied the motion to produce U. S. Navy files concerning Depreo's release to Mississippi authorities after Atchison reported the Navy has already complied with his request.

Congress ok's Army ammo plant funds

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said that $84 million is included in the 1979 Defense Appropriations Bill, for continued construction of the Army Ammunition Plant in Hancock County.

Final approval has been given by the Congress to the funding, Stennis said.

Stennis, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Defense Subcommittee, said that as a result of action by the Senate, $10 million more than was originally requested this year was approved to step up construction.

He said there is a great need by the for the special type of ammunition to be manufactured in Mississippi.

The plant is located on the north half of the National Space Technology Laboratories property in Hancock County.

am, of course, extremely pleased the value of this plant to our national defense is being recognized and is actually increasing in importance," Stennis said.

Bay corrections included

Lawyers dissatisfied with new directory

By RICH ADAMS

A Gulfport lawyer estimates South Central Bell will be flooded with 60 individual lawsuits stemming from the inadvertent omission of 48 attorneys' listings in the new telephone directory Yellow Pages.

The action is being filed despite South Central Bell's efforts to issue a new corrected version of the Yellow Pages directory.

Don F. Rose, one of 48 attorneys omitted from the new telephone directory issued in September, said last week "the decision South Central Bell made (to print a new Yellow Pages) is going to cut it...we want a whole new phone book."

"I have not been advised about any law suits against us," said South Central Bell District Manager Franklin Kyle Jr.

"We're reprinting and binding a corrected copy of the Yellow Pages with the lawyer's names and numbers included in the new book," he said.

"We will publicize monthly that the new book contains correct business listings and supersedes the Yellow Pages in the combined white and yellow page directory," Kyle continued.

"The new Yellow Pages will have the correct captioning of Bay St. Louis business establishments also," he explained.

"I have not been advised of the suits, but that doesn't mean the lawyers won't take legal action," he added.

Rose said a new directory, containing both the white page listings and business listings is needed because "there is no way in the world somebody's going to keep up with two phone books" and remember to use the new separate Yellow Pages.

He said a group of attorneys met Wednesday and plan to meet again this week to discuss whether to file a class action suit or individual lawsuits.

As many as 60 individual lawsuits could be filed on behalf of lawyers and law firms omitted from the listing, Rose said.

Filing the suits in separate counties would "make (South Central Bell) spend a ton of money defending all those lawsuits."

Kyle said the phone company would do everything possible to "make people aware" that the Yellow Pages in the combined directory last month would be replaced with the new listing.

"I don't feel a completely new book is necessary to achieve the purpose, and the purpose is to get the lawyer's names in the Yellow Pages," Kyle said.

"This sort of separate business listing is done on a regular basis in New Orleans and other metropolitan areas," he added.

"We regret the problem occurred and it is our intention to correct the situation as is the tradition of our company in always striving to provide the best possible service," Kyle said.

Hawks travel to Pine, La. tonight

By RICH ADAMS

The undefeated Hancock North Central Hawks cross the state line tonight to battle the Pine Raiders in Pine, La.

"I hope we don't get too big-headed or overconfident for this game. We just have to rise to the occasion and play better football," said head coach Irvin Favre.

"We have an unblemished record, and each week we have to try a little bit harder," he added.

The Hawks are now 7-0 for the season and have won 18 consecutive regular season games.

Although coach Favre admitted he knows little about the Raiders, he predicts the game will be a close one.

"The Pine squad is a little smaller than us, about a ten-pound per player difference. That small weight advantage should not give us too much of an edge on the game," Favre said.

"We are working on all phases of our game right now. We will run our basic maneuvers against them," he added.

Gametime at Pine is 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Rocks, Tigers meet in rivalry

By RICH ADAMS

Bay High and St. Stanislaus meet Friday in an inter-city rivalry in what both Tiger head coach Billy Rhodes and Rock head coach Bill Poole say will be an "exciting game."

"This town rivalry is a tough game," said Rock-A-Chaw head coach Poole. "Everybody without a broken leg or broken bone will be out to play against Bay High," he continued.

Bay High beat Notre Dame, and Notre Dame has the most physical team I've seen. The game has got to be physical," he added.

The Tigers, with quarterback Dwayne LaFontaine returning for limited duty, face Rock runningback Scott Senner in the tough game.

"This is one of those games where we throw out the records and expect a good spectator game," Rhodes said.

"We're going to go into this game like we do any other game, with the spirit to win. The Tigers are now 1-6 for the season. The Rocks boast a 5-2 record for the gridiron season."

Gametime is 7:30 p.m.

PRC loses to Warriors

East Central Junior College came from 13 points down here Saturday night to ruin Homecoming activities for Pearl River Junior College.

Trailing 13-0 at halftime the East Central Warriors scored a touchdown and two point conversion in the third and fourth quarters to defeat the Wildcats 16-13.

The loss put the Wildcats record at 4-3 and was the third consecutive defeat at home this year. Earlier in the season the Cats were posting a 3-0 ledger and a number 10 ranking in the nation.

Henry Smith, a sophomore tailback from Poplarville, scored both Wildcat touchdowns in the first half. With 9:37 to go in the first quarter Smith went over from the four and seconds into the second period he tallied from the four yard strip again. Jeffery Reid made the first point after but missed the second attempt.

East Central got on the scoreboard with 7:30 to go in the third stanza when quarterback Mark Killens connected the wide receiver Alex Ealy from four yards out. Killens then hit Mike Lee for the two point conversion.

Early in the fourth quarter Reid attempted a 32 yard field goal but it was wide to the left. East Central then took the ball on the 20 and marched 80 yards in eight plays to win the game.

Theodore Ealy scored from the one and Killens passed to T. Ealy for the two point conversion. Pearl River had an excellent opportunity to win on the next series of downs but Scott Arlian fumbled on the five yard line into the end zone and the Warriors recovered to stave off the threat.

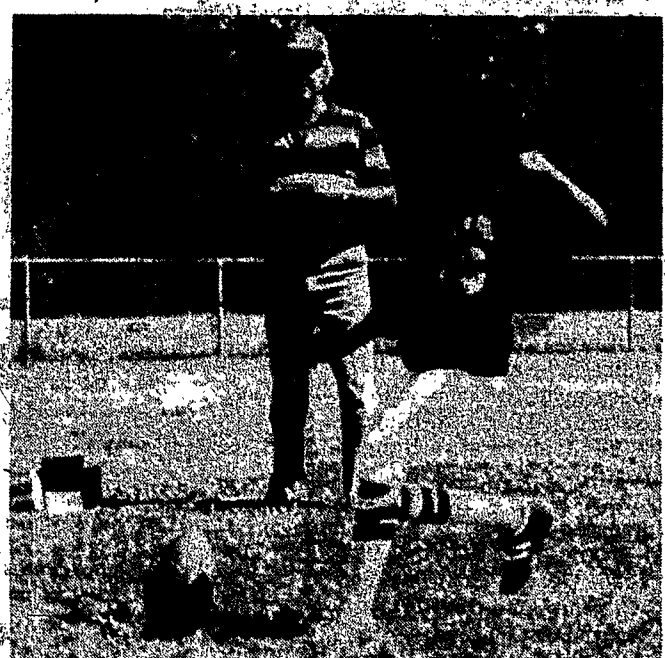

PRC had two other opportunities but fumbled on one series and was intercepted on another attempt.

Pirates, East Central clash

By RICH ADAMS

The Pass Christian Pirates runningback Gene Lang fight East Central Friday in an away game in Gulfport.

The East Central team is a sort of "up and down" team. One week they will play great ball and the next they will make mistakes," head coach Bob Lang said.

Bay High beat Notre Dame, and Notre Dame has the most physical team I've seen. The game has got to be physical," he added.

The Pirates won a match Friday at Gulfport.

Rocks JV defeats HNC

By RICH ADAMS

The St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity defeated the Hancock North Central Hawks last week 28-0.

The loss knocked the HNC Mini-Hawks from an unbeaten season and gave them a 2-1 record for the season.

"Halftime score was 13-0. The Rocks played a lot of their starters on varsity, and we didn't. We try to play everybody we can," said Hawk coach Irvin Favre.

In the first quarter Rock's Lee Klein blocked a Hawk punt and returned the ball for a 35 yard score.

A Juan Betanzos point after was good.

In the second quarter, Rock quarterback threw a 25 yard pass to Pierre Cabell for the second Rock JV score.

In the third period Stanislaus back Dave Boos took a quick pitch around the right side for a score from 10 yards out.

Another Betanzos kick added an extra point.

Fullback Mike Hoin ran a two yard touchdown in the final stanza to insure the 28-0 victory for the Rocks.

Defensive standouts for the Rocks were Mike Solleau and David Caserta.

Defensive mentions for the Hawks were George Moore, Michael Schubert, and Otho Seals.

Offensive mentions for the Hawks were Moore, Robert DeVaughn, and Lloyd Henry. The Rocks host St. John Monday night.

Marine Concrete names executives in two positions

Marine Concrete Structures, Inc. has filled two key positions in its expanding Port Blenville shipyard division, according to Don Payne, president.

Roy Bartlett II has been named marketing representative, commercial shipyard division. He was formerly sales manager for a construction supply company and has been in industrial sales for the past 15 years.

Harry Riddle has been named production manager of the shipyard division. A veteran of 20 years shipyard experience, he was formerly superintendent in charge of the lower shipyard area at Avondale Shipyard.

"These staff additions will enable us to put more emphasis on the quick repair of Lash and Sea-Bee type barges," Payne said.

Other types of repairs will be handled as well. With its recently opened graving dock - the widest in the Gulf Coast - large structures of unusual widths such as semi-submersible rigs can also be handled.

Legion's Oktoberfest is international event

Chef and chairman Hedi Klein

By GERALDYN MILLS
Sauerbraten, knockwurst, hot apple streudel, and an Oom-Pah-pah Band were featured at the Waveland American Legion Auxiliary Unit 77's recent annual Oktoberfest.

The event took place at the Legion Home on Coleman Avenue.

Oktoberfest originated in Germany to celebrate the harvest. An 18th Century king held the first Oktoberfest for his daughter and the tradition still continues with the festival opening on the last Saturday in September, according to Hedi Klein, chairman of the local event and a native of Germany.

Dinner was served at the Legion Hall from 6 until 8 p.m. Members of the Auxiliary dressed in authentic hostess costumes served a typical German menu consisting of sauerbraten, knockwurst, sauerkraut, bratwurst, purple cabbage and hot potato salad. Desserts included apple streudel and streusel cake.

At 8 p.m., the Swingers Oom-Pah Band began an evening of entertainment with couples of all ages dancing everything from the polka to the newly-invented German Hustle.

The Oktoberfest is a yearly event sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary and is open to everyone from ages one to 100. According to Mrs. Klein, the evening was a great success.

Another Legion Auxiliary member, Mrs. Cookie Barrere, agreed that "this night in Germany" was a great deal of fun.

Students from Chile, Holland, Sweden and the Philippines attended. They are in the Bay-Waveland area as part of a foreign exchange student program.

The Legion Junior Auxiliary offered cupcakes for sale and held a cake auction. Legionnaires served draft beer and German pretzels. The Legion Hall took on a fall-harvest look with tables covered with red and white checkered tablecloths. Centerpieces were of dried flowers, pumpkins, squash, nuts and fruits. Wall hangings were of sea oats.

Chairman and chef for the event was Hedi Klein. Ticket sales were handled by Myrtle Blanchard, Dena Curvey, Eleanor McArthur, Pere Cabibi, and Agatha Canady. Hostesses were Dorothy Authement, Marion Kennair, Agnes Ray, Marion Dorn and Cookie Barrere. Also serving were Ova Barrere, Bobby Barrere Jr., Walter Courtault, Jay Courtault and Bob Barrere.

Bay Citizen group moves on gas rates

A petition signed by 127 people has been filed with city clerk's office, reports Geraldine Lang, secretary of Concerned Citizens Association of Bay St. Louis. The petition states: "We, voters of Bay St. Louis, Ms., are concerned and alarmed at the exorbitant utility rates which have placed a heavy financial burden on the people of our community and do hereby petition the Mayor and Council members to take all necessary action to curb the rising cost of utilities and do everything in their power to protect any future increases by the gas companies."

Lang emphasises, "All persons who wish to join the effort, and curb inflated utility rates should contact Concerned Citizens."

FLAG THAT FLEW OVER CAPITOL—Marion Beal, Den Mother of Cub Scout Pack 208, presents a flag that flew over the U.S. Capitol on Sept. 19, 1978 to members of the pack. The flag was given to the Bay St. Louis Library by Trent Lott at the request of Joe Pilet. Child Council plans statewide conference

The Mississippi Council on Children, an agency whose primary responsibility is for the development of a statewide plan for comprehensive services to young children, is sponsoring a statewide training conference, according to Howard Patton, St. Stanislaus teacher and coach and council committeeman.

The training conference will be held in the Holiday Inn, I-55 North, Jackson, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2. Theme of the conference will be "The Good Life for the Young Child - You Can Make It Happen."

The conference will be divided into five workshop sessions with many areas of the development and training of the young child to be discussed.

The areas of discussion include: techniques and methods of programming for children with special problems; methods of structuring activities that will enhance the preschool child's self-concept; responsibilities of the social worker in the preschool program; techniques of effectively getting communities involved in preschool programs; and values and character building principles for children and parent education in the preschool program.

The conference will host many specialists from both in and out of state in the field of child care and is open to anyone who would like to attend.

For additional information, contact the Mississippi Council on Children, Dale Building, Ground Floor, 2906 North State Street, Jackson, 39216, or telephone (601) 354-6773.

The statewide training conference is another step by the Mississippi Council on Children to assist the state in minimizing cost and maximizing the quality and quantity of services available to the state's thousands of children, Patton said.

Mary Edith Dressel, director of the Career Development Center on the Hattiesburg campus will conduct the vocational service.

"We are offering tests in various areas in order to help individuals determine the career areas for which they are best suited," Dressel said. "These tests will incorporate educational interests, vocational interests, personality characteristics, personal values and work values."

Interview and testing sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m.

and end around 12:30 p.m. The evaluation of data will be discussed upon completion of the tests.

Anyone interested in the service should contact the Admissions Office at Long Beach (864-6533) and arrange an appointment.

Bay included in statewide funds

"Renovations" totalling about $380,000 will be made to 25 existing buildings across the State during the next six months for use as Multipurpose Senior Centers," Governor Cliff Finch said this week.

Some $17,500 has been allocated to the City of Bay St. Louis.

The renovations, which will be made mostly to former public buildings and current senior citizens nutrition sites, will be funded through a Title V program administered by the Governor's Council on Aging.

"This program is going to give more of our older citizens a place to go for educational and social programs and recreational activities, in addition to the hot noonday meal," Governor Finch said. "I'm proud we will be able to provide these Multipurpose Senior Centers to our senior citizens."

BREAD AND BUTTER—John Schuengel demonstrates the minimum effort needed to lower the boom on a barge he built to be used for constructing piers. John Hayward, owner of the boat, said the barge is built with a collapsible boom to allow travel on roads and under bridges. Hayward launched his boat Sunday. (Staff photo—Leslie Williams)

Waveland man launches barge

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
The builder of the Ulman Avenue public pier, John Hayward, launched his barge for building piers at Bayou Cadet October 8. Hayward said his barge named Bread and Butter can travel on the highway and can go under bridges because it has a collapsible boom. Builder of the boat, John Schuengel, said the barge also has the advantage of fitting into small places to do repair work due to its size. The boat is 8 feet wide, 22 feet long and 22 inches deep, and can be used on land or water, said Schuengel. "In the past I had to pay $70 an hour for renting a barge," lamented Hayward, "and when I needed a barge I couldn't find one. So I decided I would get one for myself." "I have three piers in Pass Christian and one house boat in Cedar Point waiting on the launching of this barge," continued Hayward. Schuengel said he has been working afternoons and weekends for approximately eight weeks to construct the barge.

"A welding machine and cutting torch were the basic tools I used to build the barge," said Schuengel. "I used 100 pounds of welding rods to build the boat," he added. An Opel car engine is used on the boat to operate the winch which lifts a thirteen hundred pound hammer that drives pilings into the ground. Tony Gayaut designed the barge, said Hayward. "The barge will be used for exactly what the boat is named," emphasized Hayward, "bread and butter."

Alcohol and drug abuse training offered clergy

A series of three workshops on alcohol and drug abuse will be offered to the clergy of Mississippi beginning November 8.

Sponsored jointly by the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse of the Department of Mental Health and Jackson State University's Center for Alcohol and Drug Studies, the workshop series is designed to help ministers understand and offer help to their alcohol and drug dependent parishioners. Ministers are frequently faced with the alcohol and drug problems of members of their congregations but seldom receive specific training for handling these problems.

The workshop series, which will be held at the Holiday Inn Downtown in Jackson, is limited to 50 participants who will be chosen on a first-come first-served basis. There is no charge for the workshops, and meals and travel are included. The only requirement is that the participants commit themselves to all three workshops in the series.

The first workshop will be held Nov. 8 and will cover basic alcohol and drug information and referral techniques and resources.

The second workshop will be held Jan. 16 and will consist of basic counseling skills instruction.

March 20 will be the date of the final workshop which will deal with substance use, misuse and abuse within the family and with legislative controls and community involvement.

For further information and registration, contact the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse or JSU's Alcohol and Drug Studies Center.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club to sponsor flower school

After a picnic lunch at Buccaneer Park, Waveland, Oct. 12, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club held its regular meeting at 2 p.m. Members were asked to attend and monitor the courses to be presented by Dr. E. E. Puls, Southeastern University of Louisiana, and Mrs. Raphael Fransen, New Orleans, during Flower Show School Course No. 4, October 17, 18 and 19 at City-County Library. Mrs. Lelyn Nybo reported on the work necessary to prepare for this presentation. She noted it is sponsored by Bay-Waveland Garden Club which needs the support of its members. Mrs. Earl Raymond gave an interesting, often humorous, talk on sea gulls explaining their seemingly bizarre behavior.

The Gardens of the Month are those of Mrs. Eliza Young, 212 Citizen St., Bay St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Guenard, 416 Waveland Avenue, Waveland.

Mrs. W. W. Goodell offered to each member a Neanthe Bella to grow and care for and later be entered in a special class at the spring flower show. These specimens were donated by Mr. Hugh Evans of Holiday Nursery. Mrs. Goodell described in detail the needs and proper care of the plant.

Mrs. John Cook was chairman of the hostesses and her committee included Mrs. Clarence Evans, Mrs. R. J. Augrain, Mrs. Julian Lorenzen, Mrs. Stanley Moore, Mrs. Fred Logan, and Mrs. Hazel Tracey who were unable to attend.

The meeting was adjourned and the group proceeded to the Recreation Center of Buccaneer Park to view a film on the Wave Tek Pool in Decatur, Alabama, presented by Greg Smith, Director of Buccaneer Park.

Smith described the wave pool being constructed in Buccaneer Park, which is expected to be opened in May, 1979. He also described various recreation programs available in the park and told of future expansion of facilities in the park.

He urged local residents and organizations to make more frequent use of Buccaneer Park, the only state park with camping facilities on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.
